

Feeling Tired, Sluggish, and Drained After Hours on the Computer?
Could You Be Suffering the Effects of Electrical Pollution
... and Not Even Know It?

"EMF Radiation is the 'Silent Epidemic' of Our Time.
Now You Can Help Protect Yourself and Your Family
From its Potentially Dangerous Effects!"

A revolutionary new software program combines the principles of holistic therapy, bio physics and modern technology.
It's a product no household should be without!

Dear Friend,

Do you remember when smoking cigarettes was considered an acceptable – even a healthy – habit? Think back to before we knew just how toxic and dangerous the chemicals and cigarettes were. People had been smoking for generations, without the slightest idea of how badly they were damaging their health.

It was not until decades later that the truth about tobacco use was revealed. By then it was much, much too late for many smokers.

What if we told you there was another 'silent killer' among us in this modern day and age? What if that danger was as close as your own computer screen?

If you are a frequent computer user, we urge you to read on.

How do you feel after you've been sitting in front of your computer screen for hours on end? Can you relate to any of what you see below?

- You are mentally exhausted
- You feel physically fatigued and "drained" of all your energy
- Your eyes are red, raw, and strained
- You experience unexplained, intense headaches that come and go
- You're irritable and quick to anger
- You can't seem to fend off even the slightest of colds

If you've answered 'yes' to any of these symptoms, you are not alone. Exhaustion ... mood swings ... strained eyesight ... these are only a few of the many complaints described by those using computers on a regular basis.

The physiological effects resulting from long-term exposure to computers and other modern gadgets are not figments of the imagination. These maladies are; in fact, very real. And though we are quick to pass off blame to stress, lack of sleep, relationships, etc., the real culprit might literally be right in front of our very eyes.

Electromagnetic radiation is all around us; in our workplace, in our homes, in our cars. It has become an integral part of our daily lives. Scientific research has made only small strides in studying radiation's harmful effects, and we're years away from knowing how long-term exposure impacts our lives.

As the tobacco issue clearly demonstrates, living in a state of ignorance for so many years can be harmful – even fatal.

So what's to be done? Should we all pack up and move out to the country, swearing off all of the technologies we've grown to depend on? Hardly.

There is a solution, which we'll soon share with you ... but first let's start with the basics.

What are "EMFs"?

Electromagnetic fields (EMFs) are fields of force consisting of both electric and magnetic components. They are produced by electrical charges and currents and contain electromagnetic energy. EMFs are emitted not only from your computer's monitor – but also from the box which contains its hard drive. Even laptops and newer "flatscreen" monitors pose a threat of potentially harmful radiation.

EMFs are everywhere in our society today. Mobile phones, computers, and wireless networks all contribute to the heavy presence of radiation in our environment on a daily basis. In fact, electromagnetic fields of all frequencies represent one of the fastest-growing environmental influences today!

Is this a good thing? Well, it depends on who you ask.

Did You Know ... ? USA Today conducted a survey of 4567 readers and reported that EMF pollution is the #1 environmental concern in America today.

Progress ... But at What Price?

Most are quick to glorify the advances of today's technological society. Modern telecommunications help to make our lives easier by rendering our daily tasks more efficient and productive. They allow us to communicate with our family and friends with the touch of a button, and find important information quickly when we need it. Business, especially, reap the rewards of advanced modern technology. Orders are processed faster, goods are shipped more quickly, and the internet provides the opportunity to reach consumers worldwide.

Yet the advancement of modern technology is a mixed blessing indeed.

Alarming new evidence is emerging which suggests that computers and other forms of technology might actually be compounding our anxiety and stress rather than alleviating it. Scientists are establishing connections between the exposure to electromagnetic radiation and various health ailments including stress, fatigue, vision problems – and worse.

If you think that waiting for an “eventual” solution to EMF radiation is the answer, think again! Researchers warn that the adverse health effects of electromagnetic radiation could be cumulative; meaning that they deteriorate our health progressively over a period of time. When we finally discover the truth about long-term exposure, it might simply be too late.

For many who work in front of computers day after day and year after year a time bomb is ticking.

Consider these facts ...

- Prolonged exposure to EMFs has been linked to certain types of cancer such as leukemia and breast cancer.
- In Japanese studies, a mere 5 hours a day of computer work was associated with significantly increased mental and sleep difficulties.
- Spanish researchers discovered that the radiation from cell phones can alter electrical activity in a child's brain for hours, causing possible behavior and learning disabilities.
- Computer screens can cast EMF radiation as far as three feet away.

As technology continues to progress at an astounding pace, EMF levels in the environment will only increase, further exposing and endangering our world's population.

How Real is the Danger?

Researchers cannot seem to agree on the potential danger of EMFs, and the arguments still persist. While a good number of studies seem to provide convincing evidence, some experts maintain that the data available today is inconclusive.

That said, the results demonstrated by recent studies are telling. In varying degrees, EMFs have been shown to cause weak electrical and magnetic currents in the bodies of humans and animals, resulting in significant biological effects. Some scientists claim that just as a trained ear can pick up a familiar voice in a crowd, cells in the human body may respond to these electromagnetic “signals” in a negative fashion.

Even small doses of EMF radiation can cause powerful effects when the body is sensitive. The late Professor W. Ross Adey, a Distinguished Professor of Physiology at the Loma Linda University of Medicine, spent much of his life studying the impact of EMFs on the human body. He stated that living cells ‘whisper together’ to maintain the body's healthy functioning, and that EMF radiation interferes with this critical intercellular communication, or "co-resonance".

Recent findings suggest that when the body is disturbed on a cellular level, serious consequences can result. The extra "noise" of EMF pollution makes it difficult for our cells to work together properly as Professor Adey described, thus disrupting our body's natural processes.

Many speculate that electromagnetic pollution combines with pollution from other environmental sources to weaken the body's immune system. We initially develop subtle symptoms of illness such as low energy and headaches, and then become vulnerable to more serious illness.

The fact is that modern scientific research has not yet "caught up" with the in-depth study of EMFs. As with cigarettes, it will take many years before the true long-term effects of EMF exposure can be measured.

Can we afford to wait for the answers?

Government authorities with their own agenda try to distract us from the issue, yet the concern among health officials and renowned scientists worldwide is increasing.

A cloud of uneasiness has begun to overshadow our technological triumphs.

We assure you: the danger is real, and it's growing, minute by minute.

How Much ... is Too Much?

The standard unit used in measuring the intensity of EMF radiation is called a Gauss. EMFs released by typical household sources are measured in Milligauss (mG). Studies have demonstrated that adverse physiological effects begin to occur at 2.5 mG.

What does this mean for computer users?

The EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) has determined that levels of "safe" EMF exposure range from 0.5 mG to 2.5 mG, with 1.0 mG as the preferred standard.

Modern computers have been measured to emit EMF levels of up to 5 mG at a proximity of 3 feet. That's double the maximum recommended safe limit!

Just think about it ... 3 feet. How far are you right now from your computer screen? 2 feet? Possibly even closer to 1? Now think about how close children and teenagers tend to sit to the computer screen, and you'll start to realize the magnitude of the situation we face.

Perhaps one day new and safer standards in the production of consumer electronic goods will be enforced. We can only hope. But the truth is that government standards are developed at a very slow pace. It is up to us to stay ahead of the curve.

Our Youngest Generation Depends on Us

If you're a parent, your household is probably already immersed in the latest technologies. Cell phones, computers, portable devices, and other gadgets are well-known to children today and a part of their everyday lives.

Teenagers and kids today are worried about school, the latest fads and fashions, and spending time with their friends. They aren't concerned with the potential effects of radiation on their bodies and their minds. Furthermore, they don't associate symptoms like tired eyes and fatigue with their beloved technological devices.

As parents and guardians of the next generation, it's up to us to seek out and utilize ways of protecting the health and well-being of our children.

Rather than discover the detrimental effects of EMFs in 30 years – when it's too late - the time to start protecting ourselves – and our over-exposed children – is now.

The Health Vibes Institute Introduces "Computer Clear®": A Revolutionary Safeguard Against Harmful EMF Radiation

Considered to be the 'next generation high tech product', Computer Clear® is a remarkable new software program which helps your body to counteract the harmful radiation emitted by your computer, thus protecting you from the detrimental effects of electrical pollution.

Computer Clear® is a culmination of holistic therapy, bio physics, and digital technology, born from years of intensive research. Once installed on your computer, it creates an active frequency field which replaces harmful electronic radiation with a more harmonic field. This new energy strengthens and restores the user, even after hours of computer use.

There is absolutely no other product on the market today that is as powerful or as advanced. Computer Clear® truly represents a revolutionary fusion of modern technology and bodily wellness.

Computer Clear® was Built with the Latest Science in Mind

Computer Clear® is based on revolutionary new technology, and was developed by an English genius and healer named Victor Sims, whom we were fortunate enough to cross paths with early in our research. When we learned that he had developed an advanced therapeutic system involving the digital patterns found in age-old homeopathic remedies, the pieces came together quickly.

Computer Clear® evolved from a partnership based on shared knowledge, exploration, and friendship, and it is the mission of the Health Vibes Institute to introduce this software to the world. The science behind Computer Clear® embraces up-to-the-minute discoveries, including:

- ... New findings about computer-based pattern recognition
- ... Groundbreaking methods of sampling and digitizing vibrational fields
- ... Unprecedented research suggesting that electromagnetic radiation affects humans at a DNA level
- ... New statistical evidence which supports the effectiveness of homeopathic and holistic remedies and other alternative methods of treatment

The same technology used to create Computer Clear® has been used in laboratories to help animals, fish, and plants – with astounding results.

“Sounds Incredible, But How Does It Work?”

We'll tell you, but before we do, we would like to ask you to forget, just for a moment, everything you already know about modern-day medicine and treatments.

We challenge you to leave behind thoughts of pills and prescriptions and fast-fixes ... and open your mind to brand-new possibilities in bodily healing and wellness.

Computer Clear® Uses Vibrational Energy to Enhance Your Body's Own Ability to Heal Itself

Did you know that your body has its own unique “music”? Each living being has a personal pattern of electromagnetic vibrations - some call it an ‘aura’. Like the expressions on our faces, our body’s music changes when we are ill, happy, stressed, or sad.

The electromagnetic frequencies emitted by our computers can disrupt the fragile harmony of our bodily vibrations ... and wreak havoc with our health and our vitality.

If this intrigues you, please read on ...

Computer Clear® uses your computer’s existing EMF field as a carrier wave to send beneficial frequencies into your physical body. It counteracts the harmful output of EMFs by creating an active counterforce against the detrimental effects of radiation.

Computer Clear® Protects You Against Radiation's Harmful Effects By Treating You to a Harmonizing Blend of 34,000 Different Homeopathic-Type Remedies

Within the Computer Clear® program is a database of vibrational patterns, including age-old homeopathic remedies translated into digitized form. These healing patterns are designed to harmonize imbalances in your vibrational energies, and they originate from many different medical and holistic sources of treatment. The body responds by accepting only the remedies it needs to return to a healthy level of functioning.

The unique energy patterns provided by Computer Clear® help the body to heal its "natural song", thus renewing our health, energy and vitality. It is designed to improve our system's ability to manage the interference of EMF radiation, and to help us maintain our health when we must work or live in an EMF-polluted environment.

No drugs, no pills, no quick fixes. Computer Clear® is built upon a whole-body, time-tested approach to healing and rejuvenation. It is a glimpse into the future of medicine and holistic health.

Feel the Effects Almost Immediately

In as little as an hour after installing it on your computer, you'll begin to experience ("share" doesn't sound right to me) Computer Clear's benefits. Our existing users claim to enjoy:

- Fewer headaches and migraines
- A dramatic reduction in anxiety and stress levels
- An improvement in their ability to concentrate
- Improved clarity in their thought patterns
- Increased energy
- Minimization of adverse health reactions to EMF radiation

Health and Safety inspector, N. Leach, found that Computer Clear® shifted the negative Electro Magnetic fields and provided a lighter, fresher, clearer field which positively improves the work environment.

"Computer Clear® has made it possible for me to work longer hours without the adverse affect on my sense of well being."

- Judy Hall, Authoress

How Much is Your Health Worth to You?

What would you give to enjoy higher levels of energy and productivity in both your work and personal life? What would you pay for the peace of mind knowing that you're taking extra measures to protect yourself and your family against potentially serious harm?

How about $59?

We at the Health Vibes Institute want you to be able to experience the benefits of Computer Clear® in your home or workplace. You can own your very own copy of Computer Clear software for only $59.

A fair deal indeed, when you consider that your health – and the health of your family – is priceless.

However, since we've only just met - and we want you to feel confident in our product - we'd like to provide you with a special Introductory Offer.

For a limited time only, we invite you to try this breakthrough technology for a full 90 days, for the price of only 1 dollar.

So go on, try Computer Clear® at home or at work, and see how you like it. We know you'll be absolutely delighted!

You Could Be Feeling the Computer Clear® Difference in Just Minutes ...

We have designed Computer Clear® to enable you to upgrade your computer in just a few short minutes. The software runs on Microsoft Windows, and is installed on you PC using the standard InstallShield program. You can download the application instantly after your order is received.

Try Computer Clear® for a full 90 days and start enjoying an immense reduction in computer-related stress and anxiety.

"Computer Clear® has revolutionized our computer usage. We no longer get tired or get sore eyes from working on our computers, and have been doing loads of writing."

- R. Aiken and A. Rossiter. (Bath)

"What Can I Expect When I Install Computer Clear®?"

Once you install the software on your computer, sit back, relax, and let it fill the air around you with healing vibrations.

Don't see or hear anything different? That's ok, it's still working. The powerful vibrational energies given off by Computer Clear® cannot be seen or heard.

Still sceptical? It's alright. You don't even have to believe in the astonishing potential behind Computer Clear®– it will still work. Just try it.

If you are a sensitive sort of person, you may feel the effects of Computer Clear® straight away. Sometimes it takes several days. Some users have described the effects of Computer Clear® as a subtle, positive change of the atmosphere in the room ... or a soft, refreshing breeze.

We've even had users claim that long-wilted plants near their computer have rejuvenated themselves after several days' exposure to Computer Clear. Others claim that they've enjoyed a good night's sleep for the first time in years.

People might try to discourage you from using a product so futuristic and innovative. Many people rely on the comfort of the old tried-and-true. They fear change, scorn progress, and hear only what they want to hear.

Let the nay-sayers speak their minds. You know better.

About the Health Vibes Institute

Hi, my name is Warren Brodey. I would like to tell you a little about the Health Vibes Institute and how it came to be.

It was in 1996 that our exhilarating journey first began. My friend Børge, a young Norwegian homeopath, had already started to dig deeper into the future of alternative medicine when he expressed to me his worries about electrical pollution.

Warren Brodey, M.D. and Børge Mork
The Health Vibes Institute

I shared his concerns. As an old Canadian medical doctor who had both experienced and influenced changes in technology, it was obvious to me that our technologically advanced society was in danger. People were working long hours with computers, and children too were using them excessively ... playing games, surfing, and doing homework. Radiation was all around us, and the threat was growing.

Børge and I asked ourselves: Is it enough to just sit back, worry ... and do nothing?

As we were both men of action, we knew that passivity was not the answer. Once we discovered the profound healing potential of vibrational medicine, we knew we had a job to do. We began to piece together the possibilities, and our mission became clear: create a remedy to counteract the harmful effects of electromagnetic radiation – and make it widely available at an affordable cost.

Computer Clear® utilizes vibrational patterns which resonate with and stimulate the natural healing capacities of the body, thus weakening the effects of EMF radiation. This revolutionary software is our first venture into sharing the wonders of vibrational medicine with the world ... and it is only the beginning.

Looking Towards the Future

The Health Vibes Institute was created so that we can continue to further our vibrational medicine research and develop new, more powerful products. Our team is dedicated to producing improved software packages and other products to stimulate good health and combat new pollution threats as they arise. Another important goal of the Institute is to finance and encourage other people who are doing research in this exciting field.

Thank you for taking the time to find out more about the Health Vibes Institute. We hope that you will join us as we continue to explore new horizons of healing and wellness in the future!

Warren Brodey, M.D.
